Japanese Garrison on Outpost in The Aleutians Said To Be Making a Number of Counter-Attacks

ENEMY WARSHIPS NOT BELIEVED ENGAGED

By ROGER GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Sea-borne American forces are landing a steady stream of reinforcements in the seven-day-old battle of Attu island, a Tokyo broadcast said today, and heavy fighting is now in progress on the northern coast of the key Japanese outpost in the Aleutians.

The Tokyo radio said U. S. troops, striking in a three-pronged offensive, were attacking under cover of aerial and naval bombardment.

There was still no indication of Japanese warships attempting to challenge the Americans or to bring up reinforcements.

While emphasizing "tremendous numerical odds" in favor of the Americans, a Japanese army spokesman asserted that Japanese garrison troops had made a number of damaging counter-attacks and were holding their positions.

The spokesman, Maj.-Gen. Nakao Yahagi, army press chief, was quoted by the Tokyo radio as declaring that U. S. troops attempting to land on the east coast of the 35-mile-long island were "completely annihilated."

★ CONTINENT IS AGAIN RAIDED BY BOMBERS

A. F. Strikes Berlin and Ruhr Valley in Wide Sweep During the Night

MANY ARE SHOT DOWN

London, May 17.—(P)—British bombers attacked Berlin and targets in the Ruhr and the Rhine last night and the German high command announced that the raiders unleashed by the last of two dams caused heavy casualties.

Wellington bombers which roared from North African bases carried the war close to Rome, blasting a seaplane base at the mouth of the Tiber only 15 miles from the Italian capital.

The German high command communique, broadcast from Berlin last night, said the raiders "dropped a small number of high explosive bombs at several places" in the city.

Both dams produced hydro-electric power for Ruhr valley industries. The German yearbook lists 20 dams, so the RAF's night raid probably was a great blow to German industries, it was stated, sparing dams is a lengthy task. The raids last night marked the thirteenth successive night of attacks (Turn to Page Seven)

Plane Base Near Rome Is Allied Target

By WILLIAM B. KING
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 17.—(P)—Allied bombers roared over Rome in bright daylight last night and blasted the Lido di Roma seaplane base at the mouth of the Tiber, 15 miles northwest of the Italian capital, it is announced today.

RAF Wellingtons which carried the attack bombed and machine-gunned the Lido di Roma seaplane base, and planes at it, with no interference from enemy fighters and almost no anti-aircraft opposition.

"Bursts were seen among parked craft," the communique said. Two hangars were set afire. No bombs were dropped upon the central city, but the raid marked the closest approach of the Allied offensive to its outskirts. Prime Minister Churchill announced September 30, 1940, that would not hesitate to bomb "if the course of the war would render such an action necessary." (Turn to Page Seven)

Lewis Defiant As Deadline Approaches

MUSSOLINI IS REDOUBLING HIS DEFENSES

Italy's Grave Position Being Hammered Home to Her People By Their Premier

FURTHER PARTY PURGES

Bern, May 17.—(P)—Italy's grave position in an Allied-controlled Mediterranean was being hammered home to her people today as a part of Premier Mussolini's redoubled efforts to tighten his defenses, reports reaching neutral Switzerland said.

At the same time the situation confronting Mussolini gave rise to a flood of rumors concerning the internal situation in Italy, the most sensational of which was a report by the Morocco radio that King Vittorio Emanuele would abdicate in favor of Crown Prince Umberto. These reports were without any confirmation, however, and telephone calls later in the night by neutral journalists gave no indication of any unusual situation.

(Other unconfirmed reports included an assertion by the Dakar radio that the Italian cabinet had resigned, and a Moscow broadcast that more than 300,000 people had fled from southern Italy to Rome within the past two weeks in hopes that Rome would not be bombed.) The Swiss newspaper Die Nation, commenting on Italy's defense preparations, said that Italy does not expect further help from Germany in case of an invasion, since Germany's own preparations to beat off an invasion attempt are demanding her full attention, and because Swiss neutrality would bar the use of railways through Switzerland for military preparations.

Eight Killed In Accidents In The State

By the Associated Press
At least eight Pennsylvanians, including a mother and three of her seven children—died in a fire and three accidents over the weekend, while a three-year-old girl apparently escaped by inches the wheels of a freight locomotive.

Mrs. Martha Blanchard, her daughters Charlotte, two, and Lois, six, and a son, Arthur, 10, burned to death when a fire and explosion, believed to have started from kerosene spilled by the boy, set fire to their farm kitchen five miles from Muncy.

A Mt. Carmel woman, Mrs. Julia McGrath, 26, and her daughter, Naomi, two, were killed when a Pennsylvania Railroad train ran them down as they walked along the tracks at Paxinos.

A 10-mile dash through west Philadelphia, with a motor bandit patrol car closely pursuing, ended in death for Joseph C. Cartley, 20, when the automobile in which he was riding—said by police to have been stolen—crashed into a stone wall.

BLOOD BANKS HELP TO REDUCE DEATH RATE

Ardmore, May 17.—(P)—Only two per cent of the wounds suffered by United States soldiers in North Africa have proved fatal, says Lieut. Col. Clifford H. Arnold of the army medical corps.

Arnold, brother of Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air force, said in a talk at a service flag-raising that new methods of treatment, including use of blood banks, kept the death rate down.

Congress Is Launched On A Busy Week

House Leaders Build Program Around Churchill's Scheduled Talk

CONFLICT IS LOOMING

By William F. Arbogast
Washington, May 17.—(P)—What may shape up as the busiest week the house has had since Pearl Harbor gets under way today with a fight between congress and two government agencies.

House leaders, building their program around Wednesday's scheduled address by Prime Minister Churchill hoped to obtain action on a $30,000,000,000 appropriation for the navy, a $72,000,000 supply bill for the interior department, a pay-as-you-go tax measure, and a highly-controversial labor curb proposal.

A relatively minor deficiency appropriation bill on which debate started last Friday developed into a row between the house and heads of the Interior Department and the Federal Communications Commission.

The appropriations committee has pending before the house an amendment to prevent use of any funds in the bill, or in any other appropriation measure, for the payment of the salaries or expenses of William E. Dodd, Jr., and Dr. Goodwin B. Watson, FCC employees, and Robert Morris Lovett, interior department official serving as government secretary of the Virgin Islands.

WOMAN SUICIDES

Philadelphia, May 17.—(P)—Leaving a note that read "I'm sorry, Mom and Dad, I love you," Mrs. Patrick Schofield, wife of a soldier at Camp Grant, Ill., killed herself by turning on the gas jets in her apartment here, Deputy Coroner John Groce reported.

Home Guard Wins Praise

State College, May 17.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Home Guard won the praise of state Adjutant General Robert M. Vail when the 28th Division Society held its traditional memorial service for 2,874 members who lost their lives in World War I.

"Those who belittle the Home Guard don't know what they are talking about," Gen. Vail declared. "You cannot find a more patriotic group of men." He also urged public acclaim for Gold Star mothers of the first World War.

Some 600 air force trainees stationed at Pennsylvania State College added a colorful note to the traditional service and parade at the society's Boalsburg Shrine, four miles east of here. Honor guests were Pierre D. Boal, son of the shrine's founder and present ambassador to Bolivia, and Col. Moscoso, military representative of President Enrique Peraranda of Bolivia.

CONTEST FOR RUMPL PLAN NEAR CLIMAX

House Republicans Confident They Can Muster Votes to Send Bill To President

TEST COMING TUESDAY

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Washington, May 17.—(P)—Twice defeated in their battle for a modified Ruml plan, house Republicans expressed confidence today that they could muster sufficient votes on their third try to send the skip-a-year income tax bill to President Roosevelt this week.

The test comes tomorrow in a vote on whether to accept the measure as already approved by the senate.

Meanwhile, some legislators speculated that Mr. Roosevelt might not veto the bill if passed, as previously indicated, because of the treasury's desire for a 20 per cent withholding levy on wages and salaries to be applied against taxes on individual incomes as now assessed.

The president in the past has expressed vigorous opposition to the cancellation of a full year's taxes. If he were presented with the modified Ruml plan a veto would kill the withholding levy as well as the year's tax cancellation.

After a four months' wrangle, house Democrats defeated the skip a year plan, 215 to 198 and 206 to 202, and finally passed a bill by Representatives Robertson (D-Va.) and Forand (D-R.I.) abating approximately 75 per cent of last year's $10,000,000,000 tax assessments, through cancelling the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on 1942 income of all taxpayers.

Shoots Self As Wife Calls For Police

Richard L. Wolfe, 5 Hill street, died at 11:30 a. m. Sunday in Hamot Hospital in Erie as the result of a gunshot wound in the left breast which Erie police report was self inflicted.

Young Wolfe, in ill health for some time, is reported to have gone to the home of his former wife, Dorothy Anderson Wolfe, 1032 East 25th street, Erie, to seek a reconciliation. Armed with a 20-gauge shotgun, he threatened to kill himself when she refused to return to him and shot himself in the left breast while she was telephoning police. He was removed to the hospital in critical condition.

The young man, son and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wolfe, 5 Hill street, leaves two brothers, Gail, Jr., and Warren, and Donald, in service at Camp Hood, Texas.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends may call. Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from his brother at camp.

Ceilings On Many Brands Of Vegetables

Pittsburgh, May 17.—(P)—Flat community-wide dollars and cents ceilings on 315 brands and varieties of canned vegetables and fruits went into effect today in retail stores of 16 western Pennsylvania counties.

Products covered include canned peas, corn, tomatoes, green snap, wax beans and tomato juice, and canned peaches, pears, fruit cocktail and pineapple.

This action, the Office of Price Administration here said, brings approximately 80 per cent of the foods in the housewife's market basket under top prices expressed in cents-per-pound package or item.

Unlike the community prices issued last week, which were generally ceilings for the smaller independent stores, today's list covers all food retailers, stores being divided into four groups based on their annual sales volume.

Counties affected are Allegheny, Armstrong, Mercer, Venango, Washington, Warren, Westmoreland, Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Crawford, Erie, Fayette, Forest, Greene and Lawrence.

Death Takes Athlete Of Prominence

Services for Kermit Cuthbertson to be Held Tuesday Afternoon

BURIAL TO BE AT BARNES

Kermit T. Cuthbertson, known to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances as "Cubbie" and for some years one of the community's outstanding school and professional athletes, died at 8:30 p. m. Saturday after he had either fallen or jumped from a window in his home, 117 Biddle street.

He had been in ill health for some time and had been brought home only the preceding day from a hospital in New York where he had been under observation and treatment.

Born March 24, 1910, at Lynch, he had attended school at Clarendon in his earlier years and was graduated from Warren High School in 1929. He attended Kiski-metras Springs School at Saltsburg in 1929-30 and Grove City College in 1931-32.

In school here and at college he had figured prominently in football events and after returning here was identified with professional football activities. He was employed by the National Forge and Ordnance Company at Irvine.

Surviving him are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mabel Mattison, Irvine; Harold Cuthbertson, Hackensack, N. J.; Miss Jessie Cuthbertson and Mrs. Grace Moore. (Turn to Page Seven)

OPA Shakeup Recommended

Washington, May 17.—(P)—Containing "this is the time for doing jobs, not holding them," a house naval sub-committee today recommended a drastic shake-up of OPA personnel and revision of that agency's methods of allotting and rationing food in critical war production centers.

Saying that responsibility for bringing relief to war-congested areas "rests squarely with the federal government," the sub-committee said production of war materials would fall behind if war agencies did not coordinate their activities to bring relief to these sections.

Urging greater decentralization of authority in war agencies, the report said local and regional representatives, anxious to do a good job, were hampered by "conflicting and over-lapping directives" from Washington.

NEW CRISIS IN SOFT COAL WAGE DISPUTE

Head of United Mine Workers Announces He Will Not Comply With WLB Order

BARGAINING RENEWED

BULLETIN

Washington, May 17.—(P)—The War Labor Board risked its existence today in an all-out, head-on conflict with UMW President John L. Lewis. Interpreting the mine leader's refusal to appear at a WLB meeting to arrange a resumption of collective bargaining in the coal wage dispute as a defiance of "the lawfully established procedures of the government," the board instructed the soft coal operators not to proceed with negotiations "until both parties are ready to proceed under the instructions of the division of the board."

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
Washington, May 17.—(P)—The War Labor Board said today that UMW President John L. Lewis has challenged the sovereignty of United States and the issue now "is whether Mr. Lewis is above and beyond the laws which apply to all other citizens of the United States."

Coupled with this public denunciation of Lewis, the board was authoritatively reported to have instructed soft coal operators not to resume negotiations until further orders.

What steps, if any, would be taken to avert another threatened shut down of the industry tomorrow night could not be learned immediately. The present 15-day truce under which the mines have been operating expires then and Lewis has declined to comment on the prospect of continuing production.

Lewis had announced in New York yesterday that he would not obey the WLB directive to attend the meeting today to arrange for a renewal of bargaining but said he was ready to meet the operators when they returned there.

The board met privately with the operators and then issued a statement saying: "The board issued the unanimous statement after a meeting with soft coal operators, which Lewis and other officers of the United Mine Workers had been asked to attend to make arrangements for resumption of contract negotiations."

The board statement, however, said nothing about the next step to be taken in the soft coal wage dispute to head off a threatened new tie-up at the expiration of the present 15-day truce tomorrow night.

Lewis was informed of the board's statement at the New York office of the United Mine Workers. He sent out word through a secretary that he had "no comment."

Lewis had said yesterday in New York (Turn to Page Seven)

Kiska Likely Objective Of Yank Forces

Washington, May 17.—(P)—Naming Kiska as the likely next objective of American forces in the Aleutians, army officers predicted today that troops who landed on Attu island would be able to sweep the Japanese from that far outpost as soon as the weather cleared sufficiently for combined sea-air-ground operations.

Colonel R. Ernest Dupuy, in a review of the weeks operation on all war fronts, described the surprise landings on Attu, at the tip of the Aleutian chain and within 700 miles of the great Japanese base at Paramushiro, as "the second step in the process of sweeping into the sea the nips on both Attu and Kiska." The first step was the occupation in January of the islands of Amchitka and Adak.

Details are lacking on the Attu fighting, Dupuy said, but at last reports a heavy fog still was impeding operations, not only preventing the use of air and surface bombardment, but bringing to a virtual halt the movements of Americans ashore. However, he added, a complete American success is inevitable, and one full day of good weather is about all that is needed to achieve that success.

(The Tokyo radio quoted a Japanese army official today as saying that the United States was landing a steady stream of reinforcements on Attu.)

Saturday is Big Day For The
Metzger-Wright Anniversary

Saturday dawned bright and clear which augured well for Metzger-Wright's 47th Anniversary Sale. From the time the doors swung open at 9 a. m. until they closed at 9 p. m. the store was a busy place, in fact it was one of the largest days in both point of sale and of customers this store has known. Friends came from far and wide not only to take advantage of the big buys in every department but also to congratulate the management on its 47 years of continuous service in the community.

Much interest is being shown in the Lilac Marathon, the salespersons contest, by both the customers and the co-workers. Owen Unangst, an honor club member is now in the lead but much may happen between now and the close of the sale. Because of the continued cold weather, there has not been any lilacs, and so, the Lilac Tournament is being held over for this week in the hopes that a few of the earlier blooms will be out. It will be recalled by some that last year all the Lilacs were in full bloom and some of the earlier ones gone at this time.

The $25 War Bond which was to have been given away Saturday was unclaimed.

WARREN MAN IN THE NEWS

In a dispatch by Sgt. Milton Lehman, correspondent for Yank, The Army Weekly, a local man is mentioned as being somewhere on the North African front. He is Lt. Robert Porter, formerly of Chandler's Valley, whose name is cropping up in the news with more or less regularity.

The story as told by Sgt. Lehman describes the Yank correspondent's efforts to locate the advanced units of the British Eighth Army when a junction was made between the armies of the United States and England.

On the way Sgt. Lehman met Lt. Porter and asked him if he had seen the British Eighth Army. The lieutenant replied in the negative while a Sgt. Perry Maki, South Swansea, Mass., pointed toward Gafsa and Sgt. Lehman proceeded in that direction. Sgt. Maki incidentally used to run the 100-yard dash for Boston College.

Lehman's article ends humorously with the statement that he was unable to locate the Eighth Army, and wonders how General Montgomery ever managed to find his way to Tunisia from the Middle East.

The article appears in the May 21st issue of Yank, a War Department publication for members of the Armed Forces.

OUR ENEMIES ARE REALISTS

Two major reactions were apparent when President Roosevelt announced the Japanese murder of American flyers who were captured after the Doolittle raid on Tokyo. One, the fighting man's, came out through gritted teeth: "Let us at 'em. We'll fix those unmentionables." The other, civilian, punctuated by gasps of horror: "They can't do that. It isn't civilized. It's against the laws of war."

Isn't it about time for us to understand that our enemies have put the laws of war away in mothballs, and face the fact that our soldiers and sailors, our marines and flyers, our sailors and workers aren't playing in a nice, gentlemanly game of tag football or one old cat?

Our enemies are realists. They realize that before this war is over either they or we are going to be killed. They are acting on the principle that the only good enemy is a dead enemy.

When they sink one of our ships, or down one of our planes, they are doing it to dispose of the fighting men aboard as well as to destroy the materiel involved. They have no intention of helping or even permitting fighters to get back home where, with new equipment, they can return to the job of killing Germans and Japs.

That is why they machine gun life rafts and parachuting flyers. Their object being to kill our men by any means available, they set booby traps, they mine bridges, they bomb at random if selected targets are not available.

If, at any moment, they believe that they have more to gain than to lose by using lethal gases or other poisons, they will not be deterred by any idea of sportsmanship or respect for the "laws of war."

It being their job to survive, by beating us, they are not concerned about our opinion when they rob captive civilian populations of food and force them to starve, or transplant conquered workers by the tens of thousands and force them to work under inhuman conditions, or exterminate whole populations en masse.

We have been put on ample warning, not by words but by deeds, that practical considerations are the only "laws of war" recognized by Nazis or Japanese. They will do anything, to win this war, which they do not have good reason to fear will boomerang against them.

Horror, and citation of the Hague Convention, won't save the world from slavery to Hitler and Herzhito.

The fighting men have the only sound, effective reaction: "Let's go. We'll flay the skin off their flesh and the flesh off their bones."

NEW LAW REQUIRED

Presumably the Axis will call soon for amendment to the laws of war so as to ban further exploits like that of American Lieut. Frank L. Dunn of San Antonio, Texas.

Lieutenant Dunn was looking for aerial pictures when a flight of Axis planes came in to land at a field near Cagliari, Sardinia. The sly cuss circled with the enemy, flew low enough to get his shot of an Italian cruiser in the harbor, and was off before anti-aircraft gunners or Axis flyers noticed the interloper in their midst.

A Bad Case of Earburn

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Add a few statistics to the prognostications of some of our most conservative political guessers here, and the conclusion is that no matter whether a Democrat or Republican sits in the White House after 1944, it will be an uneasy seat so far as Congress is concerned.

No President has ever had anything but trouble when he had a Congress divided against itself. It was a Republican Senate that whittled President Wilson's 14 Points down to zero and isolated him from the League of Nations.

Republican President Hoover had to cope with a Democratic House. These are within our own time, but the story stretches back into history and every time it appears, the presidency has had more afflictions than Job, with no time (because of coming elections) to apply Job's patience.

PRACTICALLY all unbiased political observers here say positively that the House of Representatives elected in 1944 will be Republican. They know the swing of the pendulum. They point to the 1942 elections that carried the Republicans within 14 seats of the Democratic majority (which means that if the Republicans had won just eight more of the 222 opposition seats, they would have been in the saddle). They argue even that if a Democratic President is elected — even if President Roosevelt is re-elected — it will be impossible to change this swing of the pendulum in the congressional districts.

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Suppose I just give it to you for what it's worth, without emphasizing too much that I think it may be worth something. It came from a political observer, now retired, but formerly high enough on the Democratic rolls to speculate with some authority.

Suppose, he said, President Roosevelt should run again with James F. Byrnes, now the "little president," as his vice presidential candidate, and with the understanding that if the war were over before the fourth term expired, he (President Roosevelt) would resign in favor of the ex-congressman, ex-senator, and ex-associate justice of the supreme court.

There is an idea to toy with. By picking Byrnes as his running mate, the President probably could bring all the recalcitrant southern states back into the fold because the little gentleman from South Carolina rides high with his southern colleagues.

Why did Byrnes step down out of that $20,000-a-year-for-life job on the supreme court, if he were no greater future promised than being trouble-shooter for the Administration? If the President does run for a fourth term in the midst of global war, whom else could he select for a running mate and why?

I've tried those questions on several bigwigs in both parties hereabouts and all I've gotten, aside from a worried look or a Grant it is a possibility and you will see what is ahead for the next President of the United States. Because only by a miracle could the Republicans capture control of the Senate in next year's elections.

In the present Senate, there are 57 Democrats, 38 Republicans and one Progressive. To gain control, the Republicans would have to unseat 10 Democrats, without losing one.

Since there are 21 seats now Democratic and only 11 now Republican to be filled next year, that appears on the surface a pretty simple matter.

But wait. Thirteen of those Democratic Senators come from Solid South Democratic states or from states so overwhelmingly Democratic, even on the basis of 1942 elections, that there seems no possibility of the Republicans getting even a token vote.

I have not included in this list New York, which, with its present Republican Governor Dewey and with 23 Democratic congressmen against 19 Republicans, could very conceivably go Republican in 1944. But the probable candidate for reelection will be Sen. Robert F. Wagner, who has served for 18 years in the upper chamber.

The same holds for Missouri, where Democratic Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, after 12 years of tenure probably will be up for reelection.

In Idaho, where Democratic Sen. D. Worth Clark may seek reelection, the state seems pretty well divided.

Hollywood Gossip

staring eye, has been the counter-punch, why didn't Roosevelt pick Byrnes in 1942? The answers to that are probably three: (1) Byrnes was too valuable as floor manager and smoother-outer of Democratic convention ailments to be used for anything else; (2) We weren't in the war then and Byrnes had crossed the "New Deal" on home front issues often enough to raise the probability that he wouldn't always string along on everything that the Administration proposed; and (3) Byrnes probably wouldn't have had the job under any circumstances. (It's pretty well established that he had his heart set on the supreme court post.)

THERE'S also the fourth point made by some observers that President Roosevelt felt that Henry Wallace would help with midwest and farm votes—which were more important than the still-solid South.

It is, of course, too early to make any predictions about 1944, but the powers that be in both parties already are drawing the lines. The fact that Byrnes, who didn't earn his political spurs by being a yes-man, could probably win enough confidence in the south to stem any threatened rebellion there, is not to be ignored.

One thing is becoming more apparent every day: The White House is not averse to having the fourth term issue discussed openly. A word from the President to some of those who have been shouting it from the mikes and house-tops would have put a stop to it weeks ago.

Projects Are Outlined For Girl Scouts

Eighty Girl Scouts and their leaders attending the annual "camp rally" at the YWCA Thursday night heard Harold Bush, of the U. S. Forest Service, outline definite projects that Girl Scouts may assume in the Allegheny National Forest area during the shortage of man labor.

All projects were geared to the ability and strength of girls. The availability of forest lands makes this a perfect war service for the Girl Scouts of this area. The location of Camp Birdsall Edey makes it possible for Girl Scout troops to enjoy short camping trips and to engage in essential work at the same time.

The moving picture "Volunteers for Victory" was shown by Miss Arlene Schure, with a variety of activities in which Girl Scouts are aiding the war effort depicted.

The large camp flag was unrolled for the first time this season and the group joined in paying their respects to it as they do each day at camp.

Girl Scouts were present from Sugar Grove, Sheffield and Warren, chaperoned by Mrs. Ruth Clitus Miller of Sheffield, and Mrs. R. S. Cumming of Sugar Grove.

Mrs. Harry Lewis exhibited a large variety of camp clothing and equipment. While no official equipment is required of campers it is highly recommended as being especially designed to meet the needs of girls in camp or for general sport wear. Metzger-Wright Company is the official Girl Scout outfitter.

Mrs. F. L. Abendroth, chairman of the Girl Scout camp committee, welcomed the girls and leaders, and spoke of plans for the season.

Mrs. R. W. Mackay, Girl Scout commissioner, and Mrs. C. V. Weld, chairman of the public relations committee, acted as hostesses. Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. E. Conway and Mrs. Merton Irvine.

MOTORISTS NEEDED TO MAKE UNIQUE GAS SAVING TEST

Every patriotic Pennsylvania citizen interested in conserving our resources and saving gasoline for Victory will welcome the achievement of an American inventor. Already thousands of car owners are using his invention and they report gas savings up to 30% as well as more power, smoother pickup and quicker starting. The device, called the Vacuum-Charge Gas Saver, operates on the super-charge principle and fits all makes of cars and trucks. It is entirely automatic and allows the motor to breathe. The manufacturer, the Vacuum-Charge Carburetor Co., 7617-7472 W. State St., Waukegan, Wisconsin, are offering a Vacuum-Charge Gas Saver which will test it on their own cars or trucks and help introduce it to others. Write them today!

OURS...to fight for Freedom from Fear

These little fellows and their sisters, who now play at being heroes and heroines of a war they can little understand; these children who become each parent's strongest motivation in life; whose eyes sparkle with good health; whose lips are quick to smile; whose bodies you watch grow taller and stronger . . . what great security is theirs in this, our land!

How closely you watch over your children! And how right it is that you keep your vigil. Not only when you tuck them into bed for the night—but in everything you think and do.

For surely they are threatened! We have seen what can happen—really happen, in occupied lands.

Eyes just as sparkling as your boy's, blinded by fragments flying after an enemy bomb has hit. Lips once just as quick to smile as your little girl's, contorted into the quivering grimace of fear, by the memory of loved ones tortured or shot down by "superior" fascist murderers. Young bodies which, too, had been growing tall and strong, now sculptured into bony nakedness by hunger, cold, disease.

All day—and all night—the children whom freedom's enemies "watch over" quake with fear; sob in vain for parents who can no longer nurture them, clothe them, protect them.

Well . . . where will we—and our children be—one year, two, five years, ten—from now, if we don't fight fascism wherever it spreads its plague?

NOW! Now—by the love that is in your heart for your own children, be unflinching in your militance, and help fight this war through to Victory. Then only, we will sustain the birthright of every boy and girl . . . Freedom from Fear . . .

Doubles Lead at Penn Bowling Center Still Held By Thomas And Hoagvall With Tonite Last

Thomas and Hoagvall still standing head and shoulders above the field in the doubles events currently being held at the Penn Bowling Center, look like sure pickings for top billing in that parade as the race boils down to final night tonight.

Racking up a 1638 for the four-game route on second night, the two pin busters only had one threat over the week-end, when Johnny Pawk and Sammy Cosmano teamed up to split 1622 sticks to arrive at third place.

There are still a few vacancies for the Monday night shift and the management of the alleys has requested that all those interested call or sign up early at the Penn Bowling Center, 710 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

This tournament is being staged by the merchants of Warren and all prizes will be donated by them and a handicap is offered every bowler participating, figured from this year's average.

Boy's Club Makes It 5

The indomitable St. Joseph's Boys Club baseball team came through the week-end with a dust of wins, one over the West Side team and the other, Kinzua, in a Sunday contest, to extend their win streak to 5.

It was T. Juliano against Eschenbach and Peterson on the mound at Kinzua yesterday with Eschenbach getting knocked out of the box for Kinzua in the early part of the game and his relief man coming in with 7 strikeouts and only one walk to Juliano's 9 strikeouts and 3 walks.

Warren's big inning was the second when they scored 4 runs and secured enough margin to carry through to a 9-8 victory.

Box scores also appear for their Friday's game against the West Side.

By Sid Feder
New York, May 17.—(P)—The little girl who was often a bridesmaid but never got a guy to pop the question didn't have a thing on Bobcat Bob Montgomery, the Philadelphia flier, and his trips to the lightweight "altar" the past couple of years.

While the little girl just couldn't get a boy interested in matrimony, Bob, until now, hasn't been able to get a lightweight champ to take a chance with him with the title on the line. Five times since 1940 Bob has tangled with the incumbent 135-pound bosses but each time the head man locked his crown in the strong box before going to the post.

Beau Jack

Now Bob finally is getting his shot. He takes a crack at Beau Jack, who owns the New York half of the world championship, in Madison Square Garden Friday night over the 15-pound route.

Bobcat Bob's idea of assault and battery for that is the direct result of those five non-title outings against laughing Lew Jenkins, the motorcycle and merry-go-round expert, and swarthy Sammy Angott, when they were the No. 1 boys of the 135-pound set.

Once, just about two years ago, Bob all but chased laughing Jenkins into the second gallery of the Garden. Lew never again wanted even the faintest part of the Quaker City thumper. In fact, Jenkins never again won another major bout.

Bob Montgomery

This was the second time Montgomery collided with the Texas playboy. In the first, he lost a decision by the width of a rationed steak after depositing titleholder Lew on the seat of his pretty silk panties. And then there were three trips against Angott. Each time Sammy barely got home in a photo finish.

While the Jumping Jack took this match with the idea that a figured to be a soft touch, a lot of the smarter Jacobs beachcombers believe this first defense of his championship may be his last. Or, as the old stage slogan goes, "Open and close in one."

OUTFIT THE OUTFIT

"Hey, Mom, when do we eat?" is a familiar tune to every mother of an American boy. Soldiers and Sailors are little boys grown up and they still stamptede when the bugle blows "Come and Get It." Mess Kits like this are what they use when they "get it." Pan, cup, fork, knife, spoon and canteen, all in a canvas cover.

Two million Mess Kits cost almost a million and a half dollars. Buy Bonds and keep on buying, to outfit the outfits fighting for you. Remember, they give their lives.

24 1/2 Inch 'Bow Takes Honors At Paradise

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
Bellefonte, Pa., May 15.—(P)—A 24 1/2-inch rainbow trout won first honors as some 1,000 avid anglers compared catches today after the opening of the special season at famed fisherman's paradise on Spring Creek, Centre County.

The biggest fish was landed by Jesse Mellot of Hopewell in Bedford County. Runners-up were Mrs. Harold Corbin, of Huntingdon, who bagged a 20-inch rainbow trout, and H. R. Conner of Pittsburgh, who displayed an 18 1/2-inch brook trout.

Boys, women and men over draft age predominated as the two-month season opened. Fishing was good despite muddy and high waters in the rain-swollen creek. Officials predicted better fishing over the weekend.

Fisherman's paradise is a mile-long stretch of stream maintained by the state game commission to demonstrate what results can be obtained under stringently controlled conditions.

Special regulations govern the spot in the trout fisherman's mecca and the season is limited since the speckled prizes are numerous and eager to bite. Live bait, barbed hooks and wading are prohibited and anglers are limited to 10 fish per trip, only two of which may be kept—the others going back into the stream.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister, said walls of the Mohne and Eder dams were broken. One backed up 134,000,000 tons of water and the other 202,000,000 tons, he said. Their destruction continued a powerful blow to industrial Germany, he added.

The Germans themselves reported officially on the Berlin radio that the floodtide took a heavy toll of casualties.

Sinclair's disclosure was made in a speech celebrating Norwegian independence day at Albert Hall.

"The operation was one of extraordinary difficulty and hazard," the air minister declared, "eight big Lancasters were lost with their precious crews but Wing Commander Gibson, who commanded an aircraft engaged in the operation, pressed home the attack against strong defenses and regardless of danger."

Sir Archibald called the RAF attack on Germany last night "a trenchant blow for victory of the Allies."

The raid marked another peak in 36 hours of spirited action after a slackening Friday night.

In retaliation, the Germans struck back during the night with their heaviest attack on London since last February.

The suburban London districts suffered most heavily from the attacks.

York that the UMW would not attend today's WLB session.

The miners' chief again denouncing the board, said he felt the case was now outside its jurisdiction and that committees of the UMW "are here in New York awaiting the arrival of someone with whom they can negotiate new agreements for the mining industry."

He withheld comment on the prospect of continued production after Tuesday midnight.

The board's interim directive, issued last Friday, provided for a resumption of collective bargaining while a three-man fact-finding panel completed its report.

Even if the miners and the operators should reach an agreement, including wages, it would have to be submitted to the WLB under the president's wage stabilization orders.

Players' Club Opens Plans Progressing Box Office Sales For 'Watch on the Rhine' For Program and Tea Of Legion Auxiliary

The box office sale of tickets for the Warren Players' production "Watch on the Rhine", to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings in the Woman's Club auditorium, will open tomorrow evening from seven until nine o'clock. The sale will continue Wednesday, from 11 o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening, and from 11 o'clock in the morning until curtain time both Thursday and Friday. Tickets will be available at the desk in the side entrance of the Woman's Club and information can be obtained by calling the Players' Club, 776.

The setting for "Watch on the Rhine" is the pleasant country home of Fanny Farrelly near Washington, D. C. The plot is concerned with the advent of the Farrelly daughter and her German family who are amazed to find still in existence a civilization which they considered no longer possible. The crisp and witty dialogue is provided by Mrs. Farrelly, the sharply humorous grandmother, and by the grandchildren, particularly young Bodo, who never talks except to make a speech. Against a background of clever conversation, the situation of a man who chooses to sacrifice personal security for an ideal becomes one of the most significant dramas of the current age. With no intrusion of heavy-booted Nazis, the scene of comfortable luxury allows the pertinent story to speak for itself.

In designing and building the set, Lester Muther has had the able assistance of Betty Ridel-sperger, Edna Glasser, Mary Helen Johnson, Margaret Wholeben, Lester Criswell, Monty McClure, George Wholeben and Bill Dashem. Rehearsals are progressing smoothly under the capable direction of Olive Huff, assisted by Joan Lavery, promoter.

All auxiliary members are requested to keep the date in mind and to personally invite and accompany women of their neighborhood to the program and tea that are planned.

The purpose of this gathering is to unite these women; to extend to them the hand of fellowship and to offer to them all the services and facilities which the auxiliary's years of work and experience have made possible.

TIMES TOPICS

ENJOYED GOOD HUNTING

Despite the backward spring and the absence of any real warm sunshine, rattlesnakes are out in force and it behooves fishermen and others out in the dense woodlands to keep a sharp lookout for the yellow fellows. "Dutch" Check, of the Blue Sunoco Station, rather depleted the rattlesnake stock over the weekend when he captured 20 of the noisy fellows. He displayed them at the service station before reducing them to the oils and fats which are so valuable.

We Set the Quotas. You Made Them

Each year we set a quota for our Anniversary Sale. A quota for every one of our sixty co-workers. A quota for every one of our fifty-six departments. All these individual quotas merge to total a Grand Quota for the entire store.

Quotas are set after a careful survey of local and national conditions; a study of specific circumstances in each department; an appraisal of the scarcity or plentitude of various types of merchandise. They are based on probability, not certitude. They are optimistic, but they are also reasonable.

To date, in this 47th Anniversary Sale, we have exceeded our Total-Store quota every single day. For the total period, we have exceeded it by more than 25%. The people of northwestern Pennsylvania have responded generously to our advertised offers, and bought freely of those thousands of items there is not enough space to advertise. We have been busy almost every hour of every day since the Sale opened.

We set the quotas, yes. But you made them for us!

Only five more days remain of the 47th Anniversary Sale. Five days of special values, of reduced prices, of unusual offers. Much merchandise had been held in reserve for these last days of the Sale. Selections are still excellent, but many lots will be exhausted within the next day or two. If you wait until late in the week to shop, you certainly will find many desirable items, but your size or your color preference may be gone. If you shop tomorrow, you are almost certain to find it. We advise the latter course.

Remember, only FIVE MORE DAYS!
